New Firm Buys Adams Chevrolet

Economy Chevrolet, Inc., of Cameron, has purchased Lloyd Adams Chevrolet Co., 303 North Fannin, according to Harry W. Shanks, president of the new auto agency, and Lloyd Adams, head of Lloyd Adams Chevrolet.

The changeover became effective Monday.

Shanks, 49, of Houston, heads the new Chevrolet dealership corporation which includes George Stevens as vice-president and secretary, and Clarence Shepard, treasurer. Both men are from Houston and continue to reside there.

Shanks, formerly of St. Louis, and more recently of Houston, has nine years experience with Chevrolet dealerships, he told The Herald. He had been two years with Shepard - Richardson Rambler, of Houston, prior to taking over the Cameron auto agency.

Shanks is married, he and his wife Dorothy, formerly of St. Louis have four children: Cynthia, Sandra, Stephen and Susan. The family is living in Houston at present, but will move to Cameron when adequate housing is located.

Adams told The Herald his plans are yet indefinite, but that he appreciated the patronage of people in the Cameron area and urged that they support the new management. He said he may return to the auto business in Tyler.

GRAND JURY INDICTS TEN HERE FRIDAY

The Milam County Grand Jury for the May term returned 10 felony indictments in a recalled session Friday, July 22, according to City Atty. John B. Henderson Jr.

Ray M. Hartfield of San Antonio was indicted on charges of passing a worthless check to W. T. Pearson Jr. of Rockdale on June 20.

Refugio Banda, of Buckholts, Ramiro Banda, of Buckholts, and Thomas Corona, of Cameron, were indicted on charges of burglary of Stafford Gordon property on July 7.

Don Parrizin, of Arlington, was indicted on a charge of burglary at Ada Henderson School, Cameron, on June 29 and felony theft at Brown's Laundry on the same date.

Johnnie Hart, of Galveston, was indicted on a charge of felony theft of Carl H. Bohn on June 17. Wallace Wendler, of Temple, was indicted on charges of passing a worthless check to W. G. Westbrook, of Milano, on March 11.

Richard Williams, of Thorndale, and Curtis Johnson, of Rockdale, were indicted on charges of felony theft of property of Elmo Jackson on May 29.

Offices Painted In Courthouse

Building permits issued by the City during June and July totaled $58,825.00, almost equally divided between commercial and residential improvements.

The drive - in being built at Fourth and Travis accounts for $28,500 of the commercial building permits with a miscellaneous $1,500 on commercial building repairs. Redecorating work continues on the Cox Estate and Humble law offices. Offices in the Courthouse are also being repainted.

In the residential work two houses are under construction in Cameron and several are being built outside the city limits.

City residential construction and repair permits totaled $29,975 for June and July. This does not include interior remodeling or redecorating.

Work was recently completed on a new parsonage for the Church of Christ at 9th and North Jackson.

An upswing in private home remodeling in Cameron seemed to follow a slow down in new construction.

Local builders blamed the cut in new construction on a nationwide tightening of money and resultant higher interest rates.

Cameron building supply stores reported that Cameron had not been affected as much as major cities on new construction. Their businesses showed an increase in remodeling and redecorating supply sales and a decline in new construction contracts.

She had been employed in the Cameron post office since 1949 and was named assistant postmaster in September 1964.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Saturday at Marek-Burns Funeral home with Rev. David Erskine officiating. Burial was in the Lorena Cemetery.

City Officially Hot Says USWB

The 'long, hot summer' continues as the Cameron and Central Texas area temperatures balance between 95 and 100 degrees with no cooling rains in sight. Cloud cover during the weekend left less than a trace of moisture in parts of the county.

Official Cameron thermometers reached the 100 mark twice last week on July 21 and 23. Early morning 72's were reported as the "coolest" readings on July 23 and 26.

U.S. Weather Bureau announced recently that readings of 95 plus would be referred to as "hot" on future forecasts, a more appropriate designation than the previously used word "warm."

Good crowds were reported at Cameron's Sidewalk Sale Saturday despite a blistering sun, but air-conditioned buildings were a relief to bargain hunters.

Temperatures recorded by the City Water Department were:

July 20	91
July 21	95
July 22	97
July 23	97
July 24	97
July 25	97

Cameron Stores To Hold $ Day Monday, August 1

Eight Cameron merchants Monday will join in the second $ Day in Cameron in three weeks. Participating in the August 1 Dollar Day are:

Ben Franklin Store, Dusek's Pharmacy, Harden's Jewelry, Lewis - Chili Shoe Store, New Cameron Drug, Penney's, Schigut's and Viv-Rae's.

The last Dollar Day was held Monday, July 11, and was rated "a winner" by Chamber trade development director Jerome Friesenhahn. It was a week late because the first July Dollar Day Monday fell on the Fourth of July.

A "sidewalk sale" last Saturday drew a lot of interest in downtown Cameron, Friesenhahn said.

And he reported that the Camerons Lions Club was going to sponsor a "radio auction" one day in August and that merchants soon would be contacted by Lions Club members on the program.

The August 1 Dollar Day is a function of the trade development committee of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Joe Hickman, Daughter Speak On Indian Artifacts

Mrs. Joe Hickman, and daughter Barbara, Wednesday presented a program on Indian artifacts and arrowheads before Cameron Rotarians.

Showing slides, Mrs. Hickman showed diggings developed under the supervision of the University of Texas at Ozona.

Miss Hickman explained the method used by Indians in sharpening flints into arrowheads and various sharp instruments.

Mrs. Hickman also showed a color map of Texas locating various historic frontier forts and Indian battlegrounds.

She told Rotarians that the Cad-do Indians used to live in this area before its designation as Milam County. And she noted that artifacts have been found over the years in Milam County, many superior to samples being found in established "diggings" in other parts of Texas and the Southwest.

Program chairman was Calvin Cobb.

W. C. Wallace won a playoff Sunday to represent Cameron Rotary Club in a Rotary District 387 golf tournament scheduled sometime in August. Robert Ellett was alternate.

Questions And Answers . . .

Why Aug. 27 Election?

A referendum is being called Saturday, August 27, to consider entering into Urban Renewal planning, primarily for the downtown Cameron area.

A. W. McCullin, chairman of the nine-member City Planning Commission, has provided The Cameron Herald with a list of nine pertinent questions concerning the August 27 election.

A series has already appeared quoting McCullin's resume of the techniques of entering urban renewal and its implications based on material from the south-west Regional Urban Renewal Board, Fort Worth.

The Cameron Chamber's board of directors recently endorsed the Urban Renewal proposal.

A public hearing or Town Meeting attracted 120 people July 5 who asked dozens of questions pertaining to Urban Renewal's general effect, the intent of the Cameron program and what it would involve in change of buildings, downtown area and cost.

Facts and costs of this program will be published prior to the August 27 election in order that questions may be answered to the fullest concerning the program in Cameron.

The Herald invites cogent questions for referral to McCullin and his commission.

Here are nine questions already answered by the Planning Commission:

Q. What is the Election for on August 27?

A. The election on August 27 is a referendum in which the citizens have a opportunity to vote for - or against the city entering into a Urban renewal program only.

Q. What will this cost me as a citizen of Cameron?

A. The cost is not yet known, but when it is you as a qualified voter will have an opportunity to vote for or against the program.

Q. Why can you not tell us the cost now?

A. Because the city must enter into a planning agreement with the engineers & planners chosen, prepare a definite program of work, determine all cost, and credit the City might have then we can arrive at cost to the City for its share of the program. After approval by the planning commission, by the city council, the qualified voters will have an opportunity to vote for or against the program.

Q. Who will administer the Urban renewal program if the election carries?

A. The city council will appoint an urban renewal board, and have an urban renewal administrator. This board will administer and direct the program.

Q. What area will be affected by this program?

A. We can not give the definite bounds of the program at this time, as we must first complete the engineering program and prepare comprehensive work program, cost and credit which the City may have within an area. We are thinking generally of our first program as the downtown area embracing a four block by 5 block area. This area would be bound on the east by Fannin St., on the south by the railroad, and Tyson St., and on the north by Hwy. 77. It is possible downtown block just west of the courthouse could be demolished. The people in this block, relocated in other areas, and some type of park or parking area built on this block.

Q. What about merchants who would have to be relocated?

A. Merchants in the area who of necessity would have to move, would receive help in relocating by the urban renewal board. This is part of the responsibility of the board so as not to work a hardship on any individual.

Q. What about the cost of relocating the displaced merchant?

A. There are outright grants by the Government to pay for relocating, also loans on a very low interest rate available to the merchants and landlords.

Q. What about suitable buildings for the displaced merchants?

A. Buildings in the general area would be brought up to an approved standard, and money for this improvement would be available on long term, low interest rate from the Federal Government.

Q. What about buildings in the area - where the land owner would not want to repair the building and bring it up to acceptable standards?

A. The building and property could be purchased at a fair price by the urban renewal board, the building repaired, renovated and sold to an individual, making it possible to relocate the merchant.

McClaren Named CAP Director

Max McClaren, Cameron was named director of the Milam County Community Action Program at a meeting of the executive committee Monday night in the District Courtroom.

Lawrence Zolt, board secretary, said McClaren had been named director of the program although funds to organize have not been approved. McClaren volunteered to begin some of the initial work on a spare-time basis. The program will probably not begin until September 1.

Zolt said the board would employ an assistant director in about two weeks. Applications for the position can be submitted to R. W. Wells, executive committee president.

Cameron Reservoir

Property Owners Get Report

Jack Tumlinson, Ray Jensen and Bernard Mueck last Thursday night at Milam District Courtroom reported on the Waco hearing July 20 on the Texas Water Development Board's major water program.

It includes the proposal of constructing a $32.5 million dam on the confluence of Little River and San Gabriel River sometime after 1990.

The three men reported on the Waco hearing to about 25 property owners along the two rivers in Milam County. Tumlinson told The Herald.

Tumlinson said the Waco hearing centered around speculation on whether the dam would ever be built because of the facts presented by Colonel Walter J. Wells, general manager of the Brazos River Authority.

Others attending the Waco meeting included: B. L. Franke, Roy Law and Lawrence Mueck. Ox-sheer Smith, a BRA director, also attended the Waco meeting. Tumlinson noted that the shallow lake would be 86 feet deep at the proposed dam. The dam would store up to 1.2 million acre feet of water and develop a lake about 20 miles long on both rivers to the Bell and Williamson County lines.

Tumlinson, quoting figures given at the Waco hearing, said the proposed Cameron Reservoir cost would be closer to $65 millions. He said such a cost would be completely out of line with Brazos basin reservoir costs and that previous studies show the Cameron site not to be economically feasible.

Tumlinson also said coastal and Rio Grande industry and landowners urge the completion of the Cameron Reservoir and others as soon as possible.

Tumlinson also said that all agreed that land values on the rivers "will be adversely affected as long as the shadow of the proposed Cameron Dam clouds the area."

Connally Tech Trimester To Start Sept. 6

Widespread, active interest is being created by James Connally Technical Institute in Texas. There have been more than 300 persons trained or in the process of being trained at James Connally Tech. An average of 1,000 persons have been received by the registrars office from young students who plan to enroll for the first trimester Sept. 6.

There inquiries and room deposits are coming from all parts of Texas and the flow is increasing daily. In addition to widespread Texas interest, Connally Tech, is being considered for more than one training mission for under developed countries overseas. Visitors from the Unit Arab Republic and from Guyana, formerly British Guiana, have visited James Connally Technical Institute in regard to training students from their country.

Courses offering the greatest number enrolled at this time include Heavy Construction and Equipment, Heating and Air Conditioning, Industrial Design and Drafting, Water Utilities and Welding. Close behind are the course offerings in Electronics, Dental Technology, Technical Writing, Chemical Technology, Building Materials and Marketing, and Civil and Highway Technology. Requests for graduates are being received for job replacement before many of the classes have begun.

The Registrars office will be open until 8:30 p.m. each weekday and until 4:30 p.m. on Saturdays in order to meet the demand of student interest.

Running Out Of Farmers, Land? No, Says Expert

Are we running out of farmers and land? With the great decline in the number of farmers and ranchers what is going to happen to food production in the future?

There are similar questions are often asked of John McHaney, Extension economist at Texas A&M University and he has an answer. We've got plenty of both to take care of our needs for a mighty long time, he says.

The economist says people often overlook the scientific advances that have been made through education and research in agricultural production and marketing. There is no reason to believe these advances will not continue in the future, perhaps at even a faster rate, he says.

They also forget about the large number of acres that have gone into irrigation with much higher yields, and more stable production. These projects have been developed, he adds, through the use of private capital as well as government assistance.

And finally, people overlook the fact that local farmers no longer produce just for local consumption but for consumers in other parts of the nation or even the world.

Today with efficient farmers, efficient suppliers of production items and our expanding and efficient marketing system one farm worker supplies farm products for 34 persons compared to 11 persons in 1940.

McHaney says crop production in the United States has increased 30 percent and livestock production 27 percent since 1950. Even with fewer farmers, production continues to increase making Americans the best fed in the world. And, he adds, they eat for less.

The economist believes that if we have people in this country in the future who eat poor diets or have empty stomachs it will be because they do not have the dollar needed to purchase food and not because of fewer farmers and a smaller land area in relation to the total population.

Feasibility Of Metric System Under Study For United States

COLLEGE STATION—Congress recently authorized several million dollars to finance a 3-year study of the feasibility of shifting our system of weights and measures over to the metric system.

If the results of this study were favorable to such a shift and if Congress were to legislate the shift, we would start measuring quantities in terms of kilos, liters and grams rather than pounds, ounces, quarts and tons, according to Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist at Texas A&M University.

Such a shift would mean many drastic changes in our lives, states Mrs. Clyatt. We would have to learn an entirely different procedure for figuring and describing weights and measures. It would require a vast investment in equipment, scales, bottling equipment, tools, specification and many other items used in business and the home. Even the strong proponents of the shift admit that it would take years to complete.

However, there would be advantages to adopting the metric system of weights and measures. The United States and Canada are the only major countries now using the old English system of miles and pounds is a result. Persons engaged in international trade or travel must familiarize themselves with the metric system. They constantly have to shift back and forth between the two systems in their thinking and planning. This is quite burdensome and often costly.

There would be some major aids to us in the use of the metric measure in our everyday shopping.

Metric measure, based on multiples of ten, would facilitate cost and weight comparisons. For example, it is much easier to divide a figure by 10 kilograms in your head than it is by sixteen ounces.

In addition, a kilogram would remain the same, while under our present system, a pound may be one thing in one situation, and another in an alternate situation.

Mr. and Mrs. Niley Smith Sr. were houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Smith Mercer of Houston during the weekend. While there they attended a ballgame in the Astrodome and also visited the NASA base near Houston.

Fertilizer Tonnage Drops Off During Spring Months In Texas

COLLEGE STATION—Fertilizer tonnage purchased in Texas during the spring planting months of March and April was down compared to the same period last year.

Total for the two-month period was 264,544 tons, compared to 306,646 tons used in the same period in 1965, according to C. D. Welch, Extension soil chemist at Texas A&M University.

Reduced cotton acreage allotments and a lag between sales and reporting the sales, account partially for the lower tonnage figure, explains Welch.

Welch also reports Texas' five state laboratories analyzed 7,194 samples during the same two month period. Of these, tests were run on 191 out-of-state samples. The five leading counties sending in samples were: Wharton 228, Harris 218, Houston 191, Matagorda 143, and Hale 123. The A&M laboratories at College Station ran tests on 3,009 samples to lead the reporting laboratories in number of

Seeds Short For Fall Pastures

By J. D. Moore

It is not too early to locate seed for planting fall pastures. There is a shortage of good planting seed available in this area.

OATS - There is a new variety recommended for this area called "Ora". This is an Arkansas variety that has produced well in all Texas performance tests, according to A&M Agronomist. "Ora" has the best leaf rust resistance of any variety now available. It has large plump seed and strong straw. Ora is recommended for all of Texas except the High Plains. The ora oat is similar to More-grain but more hardy. We understand this variety produced more than 100 bu. of grain per acre this year at the Renner Station. The seed are available from local dealers.

Another new variety released last year was the "Taggart" oats. This variety was developed from a cross Fulghum x Bond. Taggart has an upright seedling growth with strong straw and plump grain of high test weight. They are susceptible to leaf and stem rust. They will stand as much cold temperature as new Nortex or other similar varieties. Highly recommended for livestock producers who need early grazing, with a satisfactory yield of good quality grain.

MOREGRAIN is a recommended variety for this area but has become susceptible to leaf rust. New Nortex is also recommended for this area.

WHEAT VARIETIES include Quanah, Caddo, Crockett and Gage. Wheat was a disappointing crop this year due to leaf rust.

RYE GRASS among the two varieties of rye grasses for this area are Elbon and Gulf Coast rye. Rye grasses will stand more cold temperatures than any small grain and does well in this area. Gator rye is another variety resistant to leaf rust and makes good early production. Additional information is available from the County Agent on planting winter pastures.

SUMMER CARE OF PEACH TREES - In recent years a strong consumer demand for quality tree-ripened desert peaches has influenced the development of new practices. Early this spring the development for new orchards in many areas of East and Central Texas. There is a ready market for good peaches.

Top producers of quality peaches in Milam County this year include the Ruzicka's who live on the farm formerly owned by W. T. Whitley, Hoyt Community and the Kingsley Farm near Gauss.

Mr. Ruzicka and family fertilized their trees, sprayed and pruned them according to recommended practices. Early this spring they hauled in some hay and put a 6 to 8 inch layer around each tree as a mulch to protect the soil from high temperatures and to hold moisture. They found a ready market for their peaches in June and July.

After taking the crop of peaches off a tree, the soil around the tree should be spaded or disc and an application of nitrogen fertilizer should be applied in order to "feed" the buds for next year's crop.

Next year's peach crop will be determined by the fruit-bud development occurring on the tree the later part of the growing season. The County Agent has this type of demonstration underway and will be glad to show anyone interested how to care for fruit trees during the summer months.

FRUIT TREES should be sprayed with D.D.T., Dieldrin, Toxophene or Sevin during July and August - especially the body and limbs of the trees in order to protect them from the lesser peach tree borers.

INFORMATION ON FRUIT PRODUCTION AVAILABLE - A complex of cultural factors produce top-grade fruit. A good site, high enough for good drainage, is important. Good soil, deep, fertile, well drained and adequately supplied with moisture and favorable climate are essential.

Other cultural practices are also indispensable: choice of adapted varieties; control of weeds and grasses; adequate spacing of trees; good pruning and thinning of fruit; proper attention to specific fertilizer needs and the control of insects are all important in orchard production.

Agent Lists Reasons, Cure In Fish Die-Off

By J. D. Moore

Fish die-off may be due to depleted oxygen supply resulting from hot, cloudy weather with little wave action, large amounts of decaying vegetation, excessive algae bloom due to improper fertilization or from heavy silt run-off following rain which clogs the gills of fish. This can be prevented by proper fertilization, killing aquatic plants in small areas over a longer period of time, or proper grass sodding of watershed.

For immediate action when die-off begins, bring in a flow of fresh water or stir water vigorously with an outboard motor. If large numbers of fish are killed, remove those remaining and restock pond.

Fish die-off also may be due to pollution by agricultural chemicals. To prevent this, crops in the area should be sprayed when there is no possibility of chemical drift by the wind, or water run-off from treated areas should be diverted from the pond. If many fish are killed, remove the remainder and restock pond after chemicals in the water have dissipated.

If the pond is not fenced, fish die-off may be due to cattle wading in the pond after being dipped or sprayed with compounds containing chemicals such as toxaphene chlordane and rotenone.

National Farm Safety Week - President Johnson has proclaimed the period from July 24-30 as National Farm Safety Week and calls on all citizens to join in the observance by applying full energy and determination to the vital task of reducing accidents at work, in the home, at recreation, and on the roadways.

Originating in France more than 200 years ago, Charolais has become well established in this country because of the breed's greater weight-for-age, greater feeding efficiency and improved carcass values that produce a greater ratio of quality lean meat to fat than other breeds.

Just as sure as that first warm day arrives, cooks and their families yearn to be out-of-doors for a party on the patio. The fare will be fun even if it's as simple as frankfurters paired with tart apple slices, then capped with shredded American cheese. Made the Borden Kitchen way, it's really a breeze. Present piping hot with refrigerated biscuits baked to a golden brown, a great mixed green salad, and instant iced tea.

Consider Cameron....

Cameron is committed to progress. Otherwise there would be no airport expansion, no new library, no new street proposals, no improving schools, no growing industrial foundation, among other things.

Cameron is committed, if this logic bears out, to at least consider the planning value of Urban Renewal. There are checks all along the way as a project proposal is developed.

No plan, including Urban Renewal, is a panacea to a community with the downtown area street, curb and building problems of historic towns like Cameron.

No small town, including Cameron, if it is to survive, can look ahead at any program without a fair review.

That is what the first election proposes: planning. No local money is spent. No money is spent, save a federal grant for planning, until the planning is published and the project drawn.

Then, if a local bond issue is required, a vote for local expenditure is called. Then, the property owners of this community pass judgment on the proposal.

What is Cameron to do if such a comprehensive plan fails. What guarantee against problems can be expected of a modernization program, regardless of source? What guarantee has the businessman today that he will be operating next week? What guarantee does the auto driver have that he won't be in a collision in today's heavy traffic? What guarantee does a U.S. soldier have in a Viet Nam jungle that he won't step on a mine?

None, none, none and none is the answer to all these! And none is the guarantee, save our own community involvement and vigilance, that any such program won't have problems for progress. Would you prefer the problems of decay?

Consider Cameron in the next few months. If Cameron won't plan, Austin and Waco and Temple and Houston and Dallas will.

Would you, in effect by omission vote for them?

Garrison Urges SMV Signs

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, has joined the Texas Farm Bureau in urging operators of "slow-moving vehicles" such as farm tractors, combines and road construction and maintenance equipment to display special luminous "SMV" warning emblems in the rear of the equipment.

Garrison said the emblems, developed as the result of extensive research at the University of Ohio, are available through all county Farm Bureau offices and a number of farm equipment dealers, gins, elevators and warehouses.

He emphasized that the emblem is not designed to replace any other warning devices, such as lighting, which are required by law, but to supplement such devices.

"While this emblem is not required by law in Texas, we feel, as does the Texas Farm Bureau, that it can make an important contribution to the safety of operators of such equipment as well as other motorists sharing the streets and highways," Garrison said.

"We would like to urge all motorists to familiarize themselves with this warning sign and watch for the bright orange emblem with the red border and the triangle shape which identifies slow-moving vehicles."

The DPS Director said that "slow-moving vehicles" are described as those designed to travel not more than 25 miles per hour. Purpose of the emblem on the rear of such vehicles is to identify them at distances allowing operators of faster moving vehicles to slow down in time.

The emblem, made of lightweight aluminum materials, has a solid center triangle of fluorescent orange with a 1 1/2 inch outer border of red reflective material. The orange material has been proven to be highly visible to approaching motorists at distances exceeding one-fifth mile. At night, the reflective border glows brightly in the path of oncoming headlights - producing a hollow, red triangle which immediately identifies a slow-moving vehicle. The overall dimensions are 16 inches wide and 14 inches high. It should be mounted at the rear of the vehicle, three to five feet from the ground. The symbol is endorsed by the National Safety Council, American Society of Agricultural Engineers,

Dateline Austin... Loan Plan For Higher Education

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

A $10,000,000 state bond sale has launched a new "opportunity plan" designed to bring college educations within the financial reach of all qualified Texas youth.

"Never again will students of this state be denied higher education because of lack of funds," commented John E. Gray of Beaumont, chairman of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System. Initial bond sale was awarded to a Chicago bank.

Action by the Coordinating Board set in motion the loan plan approved by Texas voters as a Constitutional amendment last year. Amendment authorized a total of $85,000,000 in bonds to provide funds for students unable to continue education beyond high school without financial assistance. Initial $10,000,000 sale is believed to be more than adequate to carry the program through the first year.

Ceiling on available loans is $1,000 a year for undergraduates and $1,500 for graduates. Although six per cent interest rate is authorized, the U. S. government will pay all interest while a student is in school - and half of it afterward for borrowers eligible for federal interest subsidy.

A borrower's family income must be less than $15,000. Loans are limited to the difference between available resources and reasonable expenses. Money will be available for the 1966 fall semester.

Interested students are advised to contact the financial assistance officer at the school of their choice. Applicants must be accepted for enrollment and have two recommendations.

In other action last week, Coordinating Board:

Approved request for legislative appropriations totaling $56,100,000 for the 1966-69 fiscal period, most of which would go to an adjustment fund to meet financial needs due to enrollment increases at public colleges, universities and junior colleges.

Authorized election for Angelina County junior college but rejected request for Rains, Van Zandt and Kaufman Counties junior college.

OIL ALLOWABLE CUT

Railroad Commission has reduced the August oil allowable for the third straight month.

August production factor of 33 per cent of potential will allow top production of 3,138,641 barrels a day. This compares with present allowable of 3,118,042 barrels daily under 33.3 per cent factor.

HUNTING SEASONS SET

State Parks and Wildlife Commission set November 12 - December 31 deer hunting season in most major hunting counties under its regulatory powers. Opening date is earliest on record.

Season in general-law counties - those fixed by specific general statute - is November 16 - December 31.

Shortened seasons were ordered for counties of the Trans-Pecos and Panhandle - 16 days starting November 26 for the Trans-Pecos and November 12 - November 29 for the 32 Panhandle counties. Antelope season in these areas will run from October 19 and October 14, respectively.

Turkey and javelina seasons generally remain the same. Commission allowed special bow and arrow hunting seasons in some counties October 1-31.

PALO DURO FUNDS OKAYED

Federal Bureau of Outdoor Recreation approved $271,494 in matching funds for the development of facilities at Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Total cost of the project will be $342,968. Included in the program are two concession areas, 26 trailer-camp sites, 45 tent-camp sites and 75 picnic sites, in addition to such miscellaneous items as restrooms and showers, an interpretive building and a park headquarters building.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES

A divorced husband cannot claim a $3,000 homestead tax exemption when he continues to reside alone in the family home after the divorce decree, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has held.

In other opinions, Carr ruled that:

Texas Liquor Control Board is not authorized to issue a U. S. bonded liquor export permit, since courts have ruled the law authorizing such permits is unconstitutional.

Trailers used to convey horses to and from rodeos are not exempt as farm trailers and must be licensed under state law.

Harrison County commissioners court can pay $8 a day to jurors and $4 to prospective jurors summoned and excused after questioning, but nothing to those summoned but excused without examination.

Letters

Mr. F. M. Luecke, Editor,
The Cameron Herald,
Cameron, Texas

Dear Mr. Editor:

Your paper dated July 21 carried in large print on the front page, "Vogelsang Quits School Board Post"

You did not do your readers or the school board the courtesy to explain, Mr. Vogelsang suggested, "It was becoming increasingly difficult for me to go away from home at night."

The manner in which the report was handled would seem to imply there was something wrong with the school board.

To correct any such implied and veiled suggestion I wish to make bold the statement, there is nothing wrong with the school board. My work with the school board or betterment of the schools has been a joy and very satisfactory.

The present school board is composed of men whom I consider outstanding citizens and all are among my best friends.

Respectfully,
Will Vogelsang

Ed's Note: We regret that Mr. Vogelsang, as a past school board member, or anyone else could imply anything from the following verbatim report in The Herald, of July 21, 1966, under the heading "Vogelsang Quits School Board Post." If an implication is drawn, it may have been from the use of "Quits" which in Webster's dictionary is colloquially interchangeable with "resigns" which was first used in the head but was too long.

"Cameron Independent School District trustees accepted the resignation of Will Vogelsang during a called meeting of the Board Tuesday night."

"Vogelsang was elected to the board in April, 1965. His term would have ended April, 1968."

"School Supt. D. R. Dodson said the Board would appoint someone to fill the unexpired term."

WASHINGTON DC. The following letters were recently answered by the Department of State.

I am interested in any information concerning United States aid policies and programs to totalitarian states.

R. B.
Bellaire, Texas

Dear Miss B.:

Of the Communist countries of Eastern Europe, the United States has given economic assistance only to Poland and Yugoslavia. Although Yugoslavia is governed by a Communist government, it has since 1948 endeavored to maintain its own independence, free from the Soviet bloc, and to maintain traditional contacts with the West.

Our assistance now to Poland and Yugoslavia is provided under Public Law 480 which permits the sales for dollars on favorable terms of United States surplus agricultural products. The purpose of United States assistance has been to lessen Soviet influence in Eastern Europe, encourage the possibility for free institutions to develop, and help the people of these countries. Statement describing our policy toward these two countries are enclosed for your full information.

I am a graduate student at the University of Hawaii, specializing in Asian Studies. My present work requires considerable research. I would appreciate a copy of your "Government Resources Available for Foreign Affairs Research" bulletin.

Also, I would appreciate some information about the China Desk. Specifically, is there a separate specialist on Tibetan affairs attached to it and have we (the government) issued any white papers specifically concerned with events in Tibet or explaining or stating our position vis-a-vis it?

D. E. B.
Honolulu, Hawaii

Dear Mr. B.:

The Office of Asian Communist Affairs is the one within the Department that is primarily responsible for matters affecting Tibet. The Office of South Asian Affairs and the Office of United Nations Political Affairs concern themselves with Tibet from time to time.

The Department's position on Tibet was most recently set forth by Secretary of State Herter on February 20, 1960, in a letter to His Holiness the Dalai Lama. This position, as stated below, still obtains:

"While it has been the historical position of the United States to consider Tibet as an autonomous country under the suzerainty of China, the American people have also traditionally stood for the principle of self-determination. It is the belief of the United States Government that this principle should apply to the people of Tibet and that they should have the determining voice in their own political destiny."

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Philosopher Thinks He Has Found An Alarming New Trend In Governmental Thinking

Dear editor:

Most people are so busy earning a living they don't have time to back off and recognize a new trend in governmental thinking when it first crops out, but I found one in a newspaper yesterday which somebody ought to head off before it spreads.

According to this article, a government official was struggling with the same problem every state, has, as well as every city and town - how to get more revenue.

"We ought to raise the gasoline tax another cent a gallon," he said, and here's the clincher, "because it hasn't been raised since 1955."

That's what I'm talking about. You mean to say the government is coming around to the idea that a tax rate eleven years old is out of style? You mean they're thinking about going over every tax there is and raising every one that hasn't been raised in a given number of years?

You can see what this will lead to. Take just the gasoline tax. If it ought to be raised automatically every two or three years just to keep from being old-fashioned, you can see what the tax would be 50 years from now.

And since there are hundreds of taxes, most of them pretty well hidden, scattered around on nearly everything you buy, this new trend would let the cat out of the bag.

I tell you, we've got to head this off. Some people are always talking about preserving historic landmarks, why not put tax rates in the same category?

What a shame it'd be to destroy these historic old tax rates and rob the future generations of such a splendid heritage.

I hope you will use your influence if you can remember where you put it and nip this in the bud.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

FEDERAL CROP INSURANCE

Eight additional Texas counties, Pecos, Reeves and Ward, for cotton and Carson, Dallam, Hansford, Moore and Sherman for grain sorghum, have been approved for Federal Crop Insurance investment protection beginning with the 1967 crops. Irrigated wheat crops in Deaf Smith, Farmer, Randall and Swisher Counties will be eligible for coverage. This brings to 64 the number of counties in the state where Federal Crop Insurance is available to farmers, says Ben Jordan, Texas Crop Insurance director.

Black Plastic & Cantaloupe Yields

The use of black plastic as a mulch has produced almost fantastic cantaloupe yields in a Waller County demonstration. So far this year, Roland Dreahn has harvested 1,490 pounds of melons from his two demonstration rows compared with 60 pounds from two identical rows, except for the plastic. Burl Richardson, Waller County agent, says benefits from the use of plastic are moisture conservation, warmer soil for earlier planting and faster germination and weed control.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

VISITATION RIGHTS
When Alice divorced Jim, she was given custody of their three-year-old son. However, Jim had visitation rights every Sunday afternoon. He would call for the boy at 3 p.m., take him out for a few hours, and then return him at dinner time.
But one thing rankled Alice. "It's those between-meal snacks," she complained in a court hearing. "Jim never fails to feed the boy something while they are out. That is bad for his health. Therefore, I would like to have Jim's visitation rights ended."

But the court decided her complaint was not serious enough to justify such drastic action, that the "punishment" was too great for the "crime."
Generally speaking, the law prefers - primarily for the sake of the child - to keep parental ties intact. While visitation rights are often modified, they will not be cut off altogether without a compelling reason.
What is a compelling reason?

- 1) an embittered father made a calculated attempt, during these visits, to turn the child's love for his mother into hatred;
2) a quarrelsome mother used her visits to create violent scenes that left her small daughter in torment;
3) a hard-drinking father not only used vile language to his three young children but also plied them with whiskey.
But minor grievances - such as a mother's complaint that the father's visits "annoyed" her - won't suffice. Furthermore a court that does cut off visitation rights may well restore them later if the offending parent mends his ways.

For example
A court revoked its ban against a mother who, although once an alcoholic, had quit drinking, found a good job and gained a respected place in the community.
In fact, even if a parent has been barred because of flagrant adultery, visitation rights may be restored when there is enough evidence of reform and repentance.
Thus, an adulterous mother who remarried and led a blameless life for several years was able to regain the right to visit her children. The court said:
"A child's welfare is best served by fostering the virtue of filial piety, even toward a parent who once had erred, but who has long since reformed."

OUTDOOR TIPS—

Water treated with toxaphene will remain toxic to fish for about 30 days. Before placing an entire stocking, put a few fish in a test solution to see if the water is still toxic.

You Bet Your Life

Careless walking killed or injured more than a quarter of a million people in 1965.

Outdoors In Texas

By Vern Sanford

Stock tanks and farm ponds are becoming more and more prominent on the Texas fishing scene.

Nowadays you seldom find a pond, even if it's constructed for livestock watering purposes, that is not stocked with some sort of fish.

State and federal fish hatcheries provide fish to private landowners at no charge. All a person must do is apply for them.

When a pond goes sour and fishing gets poor, the landowner invariably wants a hatchery to add more fish. This is a fallacy. By putting tiny fingerlings in a pond where adult fish already are present, all that would be accomplished is feeding the big fish at considerable expense. Under normal conditions, less than one per cent of the fish spawned actually grow into catchable size.

Still, a pond does need restocking occasionally. This happens when undesirable fish such as bullhead catfish, shad, carp, suckers or small sunfish cause the fish population to become unbalanced.

Best approach then, says Wallace C. Klusmann, a wildlife conservation specialist at Texas A&M University, is to completely remove all the fish in the pond and start all over again.

This "cleaning out" of a pond can be accomplished by chemicals. Two of the most popular toxicants for eradicating fish are rotenone and toxaphene.

Rotenone is the easy and practical way to remove most fish from private ponds, Klusmann says, but seldom does it give a 100 per cent kill of bullhead catfish.

Usual recommendation for rotenone is five pounds of five per cent powder per acre-foot of water (an acre-foot is one surface acre of water one foot deep). Three pounds per acre-foot usually is sufficient in warm water (65 degrees or above), if thorough and even distribution can be made.

Klusmann says best results are obtained when the water is at its lowest yearly level during the summer months. Klusmann recommends that rotenone powder be mixed with water until the mixture is about the density of milk.

Pouring the mixture behind an outboard motor gives good distribution.

In areas inaccessible by boat, the mixture can be sprayed on the water from the bank. Small areas also can be treated by "mud-balling"; that is, mixing the powder with enough water to form a paste and then tossing balls of mixture into the water.

Powdered rotenone can be purchased at most livestock supply stores since it is sold primarily as a grub control for cattle.

Fish killed with rotenone are edible if cleaned when fresh. Klusmann points out. Rotenone is not a poison in the true sense since it kills fish by suffocation.

Rotenone loses its toxicity in seven to 14 days and then the pond is ready to be restocked.

People, cattle, sheep, dogs, cats, frogs and most other vertebrate animals are not affected when swimming in or drinking water treated with rotenone. However, continued inhalation can cause irritation of the membranes of the nose and throat.

Klusmann warns that it is unlawful to use rotenone in any public body of water. It is to be used only in private ponds for management purposes.

Toxaphene can be used in ponds for complete kills when the fish are not to be used for human consumption. Usually a more complete kill can be obtained with toxaphene than with rotenone. A 100 per cent kill of bullhead catfish is possible.

Recommended dosage is four ounces of 60 per cent toxaphene per acre-foot of water. This should be mixed with enough water to permit spraying or distribution by pouring behind an outboard.

Treated water is not toxic to livestock if recommended dosages are used. But care must be taken to avoid spilling the concentrated or diluted form on skin or clothing.

FARM LEASING -- A good farm lease agreement may well increase the net income to both landlord and tenant over a period of years. A good lease, says Extension economists at Texas A&M University, outlines the cropping and livestock plans to be followed and the way the farm will be operated for maximum returns. Some of the more common forms of farm leases are cash lease, crop-share lease, and livestock-share lease.
